

High Impact Leadership

Mark Sanborn, CSP, CPAE

LEADERSHIP

The ability to help people and organizations surpass themselves

- 1. Self-Mastery: maximizing personal potential
You must first master yourself before you can lead others.
- 2. Stewardship: the deployment of resources
Most people try to put more time in their life, but leaders put more life in their time.
- 3. Visioning: designing the future
The only thing more powerful than a good idea is a good idea well implemented.
- 4. Persuasive Communication: selling the vision
No matter how good the idea, product or service is, it must still be sold.
- 5. Teamwork: understanding, enabling and encouraging team members
You accomplish more cooperating with than competing against teammates.
- 6. Service: fulfillment through contribution
Leaders go beyond achieving to contributing.
